PHI BETA KAPPA ELECTS ELEVEN TO MEMBERSHIP

Initiation Ceremonies In Chapel Today

DR. LEONARD BACON READS ORIGINAL POEMS

Professor Sanford Reviews P. B. K. History

Eleven seniors, three men and eight women were elected to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa society, the national honorary scholastic fraternity. The students who received the honor for excellency in scholarship are:

Karl A. Brautigam, So. Orange, N. J.
Bernice K. Clapp, Richford.
Albert F. Gollnick, Milwaukee, Wis.
Mildred E. Jenkins, Fair Haven.
Alice M. Kirkpatrick, North Leominster, Mass.
Alice E. Ladd, North Woodstock.
Anne A. Littlefield, Newburyport, Mass.
Alice G. St. Pierre, Brandon.
Julia B. Sullivan, Waterbury, Vt.
Robert H. Whitney, Bridgeport, Ct.
Lila E. Winchester, Pawlet.

These seniors have completed the requirement of one hundred and five points of college credit at an average of eighty-seven and one-half, or higher, percentage . It is posible that others may qualify by the time of the June meeting of the society.

Dr. Leonard Bacon, Ph. D. of the Yale Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa and Professor of English at the University of California was the principle speaker at the annual public initiation of the Phi Beta Kappa society of Middlebury this morning at ten o'clock. Professor Myron R. Sanford, president of Vermont Beta of Phi Beta Kappa, presided and opened the ceremonies with a summary of the purpose of Phi Beta Kappa and an account of the growth and development at Middlebury College.

Following this keys were presented to the candidates elect by Professor W. W. McGilton, vice-president of the local chapter.

REV. MARTIN CADY DIES FEBRUARY 21

Aged Pastor, Middlebury Graduate in Class of 1869, Dies in Evanston, Ill., as Result of Shock

Rev. Martin Everts Cady died Tuesday, February 21, at his home in Evanston, Ill., as the result of a shock. He was born May 12, 1846, the son of Gardner C. and Eliza Everts Cady. He graduated from Middlebury College in 1869. Mr. Cady taught in the schools of River Falls, Wis., and was County School Superintendent of Pierce County, Wis., in 1873. Later he returned to Vermont where he became principal of Troy Conference Academy for three years. In 1877 he went to Aurora, Ill., and was appointed principal of Jennings Academy and Presiding Elder of Aurora District, Rock River, Ill. conference in 1890. In 1898 he became pastor of the Western Avenue M. E. church in Chicago. In October 1903 he was appointed Presiding Elder of Chicago Northern District Rock Island Conference. From 1909 to 1917 he held pastorates at Earlyville, West Pullman, Riverside and Congress Park. In 1907 he retired from active ministry and since then has assisted the pastor of the Covenant Church, North Evanston.

WESTERN MASS. ALUMNI TO HOLD BANQUET MAR. 11

The Middlebury Alumni Association of Western Massachusetts will hold its annual banquet Saturday evening, March 11, at The Oaks in Springfield, Mass., according to an announcement given out by President Roy D. Harris of the association.

The list of speakers as announced by the committee is headed by President Paul D. Moody, Dean Edgar J. Wiley and Albert M. Gollnick '22, captain of last year's 'varsity football eleven. It was stated that there are nearly one hundred former students of Middlebury scattered around western Massachusetts and it is expected that many will attend, in order to welcome President Moody on his first appearance at this association as Middlebury's leader.

Members of the association are requested to make their reservations for the banquet, and should send their applications to Roy D. Harris, 12 Chestnut St., Amherst, Mass.

MIDDLEBURY LOSES LAST TWO GAMES

Quintet Bows to Norwich by 17-12 Score

St. Michael's Overwhelms Blue in Last Game of Season Saturday

The Middlebury 'Varsity five lost the final contest of the season with the fast St. Michael's College quintet when they met the Winooski aggregation on the Cathedral high school floor in Burlington last Saturday night, the final score being 61-28.

Timberman who started at center in place of Reinbrecht led the Middlebury team into an early lead, but the St. Michael's defence soon tightened up and ended the initial spurt of the Blue representatives. Garvin occupying a forward position and Delaney at center soon worked a combination, that took the lead from the Middlebury men and gave the Purple a substantial lead which they maintained throughout the contest.

Saints Lead at End of Period

In the opening period, Delaney collected three baskets and added five more points via the free route. When Captain Hale was removed and John Garvin sent in to fill the vacancy, the Middlebury men were halted, and Leonard, who has led the scoring in most of the games this season, was unable to connect except from the foul line. The first half ended with Middlebury ten points behind the Winooski outfit.

The second half proved to be something of a walk away for the St. Michael's team, for they succeeded in placing the ball through the loop for thirty-two counters, and added four more from the foul line. Rich caged three baskets during the second half, while Timberman and Hardy added one apiece.

The summary:—

| St. Michael's 61 | Middlebury 28 |
|---|---|
| Jay Garvin, r. f. | r.f., Hardy |
| Fitzsimmonds, l.f. | l.f., Rich |
| Delaney, c. | c., Timberman |
| Murphy, r.g. | r.g., Leonard |
| Hale, l.g. | l.g., Axtell |

Goals from the field: for St. Michael's—Jay Garvin (7), Free (6), Delaney (5), Murphy (4), John Garvin (2), Fitzsimmonds, Croteau; for Middlebury— Timberman (6), Rich (3),

EMINENT SPANISH INSTRUCTORS HERE

Summer School Has Notable Roster of Teachers

DEAN ANNOUNCES FACULTY

Native Instructors To Conduct Variety of Courses

What may probably be considered as the largest single group of equally eminent Spanish educators ever gotten together in an institution in this country, will be gathered in the Spanish School next summer. Professor Moreno-Lacalle, the Dean of the School, has given out today a list of the members who will constitute his faculty of the summer of 1922.

Doctor Cesar Barja, who has taught in the Spanish School in the last two sessions, after receiving his doctor's degree from the University of Madrid, was sent by the Spanish government to France, England, Germany and Russia to make a special study of the literatures of those countries, and upon completing his studies in Europe he was delegated by his government to make similar investigations in this country in Harvard and Columbia. Doctor Barja is considered one of the most polished Spanish orators now in this country, and is the author of a volume of poems, and a history of the Spanish literature which will be used as one of the text books in the Spanish School.

ADAMS '23 RECEIVES STATE APPOINTMENT

Named as State Director of National Student Committee for Limitation of Armament

Murray Adams '23, was appointed state director for Vermont of the National Student Committee for the Limitation of Armaments, according to an announcement received by The Campus from Hon. John Rothschild, executive secretary of the movement.

Efforts have been made to extend the work of the organization to the different branches of the college where it was thought interest could be had, and at the present time it is expected to have meetings in the Wetherell Debating Club, the Sunday Noon Club, the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. and possibly the different Christian Endeavor organizations. While no representative has been appointed at Norwich or St. Michael's, Mr. Adams announced that Mr. Howard M. Sunderland had agreed to undertake the work at the University of Vermont. It is hoped that the work of the committee will result in a state conference on international problems, and as well of stimulating interest in the colleges favorable to disarmament.

Students Present Testimonial

On February 20, a testimonial from students in 235 American Colleges was presented to President Harding by the Student Committee, headed by Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard. Representatives from nearly all the larger institutions were present, some coming from California and Texas.

A survey was conducted in Professor Allen M. Kline's course in Contemporary World Politics, which disclosed the fact that the students favored the immediate ratification of the treaties

MIDDLEBURY WINS FIRST IN SNOWSHOE EVENTS AND THIRD IN FINAL SCORE AT WINTER CARNIVAL AT M'GILL UNIV.

TEN BATTERY CANDIDATES RESPOND TO FIRST CALL

Ten men responded to Coach Dave B. Morey's first call for battery candidates Monday afternoon in McCullough Gymnasium. The candidates included seven pitchers and three catchers. The prospective twirlers number Harry "Ike" Hulihan, varsity pitching ace on last year's nine; Haskins, Leach, Doe and Sincerbbox also of the 1921 squad; and Kersig and Moynihan, new men for Middlebury baseball. Lobo, Conly and Kilbride make up the staff of candidates for the catching position. Indoor practice will be held in the gym until weather permits outdoor work.

It is expected that several more men will report at next practice.

LEACH '10 SPEAKS ON MANUFACTURING

Emphasizes Economic Service Man Can Perform

Interesting Vocational Lecture in Chemistry Building Friday

Presenting the "Opportunities in Manufacturing for the College Man" in his vocational lecture Friday, February 24, Mr. Harold D. Leach '10, factory manager of the Library Bureau of New York, stressed the advantage of manufacturing as a field of economic service and a chance to improve industrial conditions by the application of "the Golden Rule."

"In these days of industrial discontent," said Mr. Leach, "there are not only great opportunities but also the greatest of responsibilities resting upon the manufacturer. A large per cent of factory workers are foreign-born people in the process of becoming Americans. It is up to their employees to show them the real American spirit. The manufacturer has a great chance to render service to his country.

"Manufacturing is one of the oldest of occupations and one on which all people are dependent. The college man should strive for a major supervisory position, i.e., a position in which he can handle large bodies of men and make greatest use of his talent and training. He should not hesitate to take a lesser position at first since experience gained in the ranks always proves helpful to an executive.

"The call is for real leaders who possess hearts as well as brains and who regard the men under them not as mere machines but as real flesh-and-blood beings with ambitions and desires like himself," said Mr. Leach.

"The world is calling," he concluded, "for the spirit of the square-deal between capital and labor."

Mr. Leach did not deem it important to say much about pecuniary rewards in manufacturing, only mentioning that they were, as a rule, good.

4-Man Snowshoe Team Makes Remarkable Showing Against Dartmouth, McGill and Williams

COLE '22 LEADS FIELD HOME IN CROSS-COUNTRY

Robinson Second and Harvey Third in Snowshoe Dash—Ski Relay Team Finishes in Third Place

Middlebury's four man snowshoe team captured third place in the McGill Winter Carnival at Montreal last Friday and Saturday and held first honors in the events in their class, securing nine out of a possible eighteen points in the snowshoe events.

The McGill winter sportsmen lost for the second time this year to the Dartmouth ski artists, but were able to hold second place. Middlebury did not enter a ski team in the events. In the single event that the snowshoe representatives of Middlebury entered, the ski relay, they were able to collect an additional point, when they came in third, thus, sending their total score up to ten points.

The first day was devoted chiefly to the ski events at the Mt. Royal headquarters of the Montreal Ski Club. The ski cross country was run off here with McGill collecting both first and third places.

Cole First in Cross Country

An event which caused great interest was the remarkable way in which Cole of Middlebury circled the course in the snowshoe cross country coming in in record time. Harvey who had managed to keep right in back of Cole to the half way flag, began to fall behind, failing to place in the event. Cole's first netted the Blue representatives five points, which ended the day's program.

The final day's events opened with the ski dash event, which Carleton of Dartmouth captured by a wide margin, to be followed by Bowler of Dartmouth, who nosed out Foss of McGill for second place.

In the snow-shoe dash, Anderson, McGill's crack performer, led the field, with Robinson of Middlebury second and Harvey of Middlebury third. This event netted the Blue team four more points, sending their score up to nine for the meet, but the ski relay which followed brought another point to their credit, placing them third in the carnival score book.

Dartmouth captured the ski jump affair at their meet but failed to come up to the McGill flash, Leslie, who led both Frost, the winner in the Dartmouth meet and Bowler, also of Dartmouth. Carleton, who had been Dartmouth's star in previous carnivals failed to show up in this event.

No Snowshoe Relay

The failure to have a snow shoe relay, which the team had counted on, led to the score being lower than it possibly would have been had the event been held. The remarkable showing of Cole '22, Harvey '22, Robinson '22 and Holquist '25 however, has raised the standing of Middlebury in the rhelm of winter sports, and with the aid of a strong ski team next year, Middlebury should be able to prove a determining factor in the carrying off

Winter Sports

The very creditable record made by the Outing Club team at the McGill Winter Carnival is deserving of high praise. The four snowshoe men who represented Middlebury against Dartmouth, McGill and Williams and collected a total of ten points, emerged triumphant in the final total for the snowshoe events. This victory, coupled with the records set at Dartmouth earlier in February, has established the Middlebury team as the foremost collegiate snowshoers in this country and Canada, a truly enviable standing and one which reflects positive credit upon the college. The Campus hopes that some formal expression of gratitude will be made to the Outing Club team for they are deserving of recognition by the undergraduate body. We would suggest that the point-winners be awarded the minor sport letter.

The recent activities of the Outing Club both in the matter of intercollegiate competition and in the development of enthusiasm as evidenced by the real interest shown in the formal carnival held on the campus several weeks ago, indicates the pursuance of a well-balanced and comprehensive program such as has never hitherto been so fully developed at Middlebury. It is too late now to plan a pretentious event for Middlebury this year, but the modest start made at home and the success of the 'varsity team in foreign fields has paved the way for greater development next year. We are glad that organizd practice has begun under the direction of Coach Morey, to whom more than any man, can be attributed the popularity of winter sports here. We are glad to see that the alumni are giving attention to the Outing Club idea.

The accumulation of the healthy evidences of enthusiasm imports that Middlebury is at last awaking to a realization of her full possibilities as a winter sport college. A continuation along lines indicated by the activity this winter will inevitably lead the college to a position that will rival that of Dartmouth as a "Winter Sport College." The Outing Club should start in plenty of time to plan a more extensive carnival here next year. A two day program might easily be arranged to include the winter sports, snowshoeing, skiing, skating and tobogganing, a good basketball game, the annual "Follies" and an Outing Club dance. Such a schedule, if properly managed and advertised, would rival Junior Week in popularity and would be a welcome addition to college life.

"1-2-8 Is Busy—"

The very real inconvenience caused by the existing telephone system for the Women's College is a matter which should be remedied at once. There is at present but one trunk line connection for use by over two hundred women. Seven dormitories, three of them at least a half mile distant from the other four, are served by the same call. The difficulties arising from the existence of such a system are obvious. Practically, it means that but one woman at a time can enjoy the convenience of the telephone—a convenience that is now almost universally regarded as a necessity. This holds whether the call be a pure pleasure message or a matter of considerable importance, as toll calls quite often are. It means that one woman by misusing her privilege may unduly delay and inconvenience any one or more of the two hundred in the Women's College. Originally the telephone connections for the women's dormitories may have been adequate; now they are ridiculously inadequate. Any one who will but consider the growth of the college in recent years will realize the truth in this statement. It is true that the excessive use of the phone for trivial matters should be discouraged but is it fair to sit by and accept an arrangement so very insufficient to real needs as that under which the college suffers now?

PHI BETA KAPPA ELECTS ELEVEN SENIORS

Professor Sanford in his speech called attention to the founding of the Phi Beta Kappa society at William and Mary College in Virginia, September 5, 1776. It was organized to promote zeal for learning and wisdom. A few years later charters were granted to Harvard and Yale, thus establishing the first intercollegiate fraternity in America. Today it has 92 chapters with a membership of over forty thousand persons.

History of Local Chapter

The establishment and growth of the chapter at Middlebury was described. A history of the Middlebury chapter was compiled by Dr. Charles B. Wright professor-emeritus of English, in the fall of 1920. The Middlebury chapter was the nineteenth to be granted, antedating seventy-three chapters, and is the second chapter to be founded in Vermont. In August 1868, President H. P. Kitchell, of the class of '25, with five members of the faculty, among whom was the late Professor Brainerd Kellogg, received authorization from the Vermont Alpha Chapter at the University of Vermont to found a chapter here to be known at the Beta chapter. 158 graduates of Middlebury College were then elected to membership. Of this number but eleven were living in the fall of 1920. The total membership of the Beta chapter is 314 members. Of this number thirty-four have their names in "Who's Who in America." Eleven new members were taken in this year raising the total membership to 314 active members.

Dr. Bacon Reads Original Poems

At the close of the initiation ceremonies Dr. Bacon read four of his poems. Three of these were short selections: "The Road to Riverside" being a delightful poem about flying; "An Afternoon in Artillery Walk" being a description of the great poet, Milton, as he appeared to one of his daughters, who had no appreciation of his great art; and "South County" being a beautiful description of southern New England.

"Sophia Trenton: a Moral Poem" was of somewhat longer nature and was a brilliant satire on the Ph. D. degree inspired by the life history of a girl who took her Ph. D. degree at

The Periscope

Verily, Middlebury was represented by mighty few men at McGill.

At that, on beholding the several ruddy countenances of our returning heroes, G. W. P. is ungracious enough to inquire what proportion of the healthy glow was occasioned by sunshine, and what by "moonshine".

From the standpoint of the disinterested observer of both Kake Walk and Follies, we unhesitatingly extend our own blue ribbon to the latter.

We were able to remain awake throughout the last named performance.

Never for one single moment doubting that the recent "discovery" of Polar Pies was a fraud and misrepresentation, we have at last stumbled upon conclusive evidence that these delights were widely known four score years ago. Writing in his journal of April 13, 1842, at Brook Farm, Nathaniel Hawthorne says,—"Here I am in a Polar Paradise".

We now confidently await proclamation by the Signors Calvi and the w. k. Ethiopian ice cream venders of Burlington that their product is the "one and only original".

Truly the age of classicism is no more. A basketball season has ended, and nowhere in the columns of this journal has appeared any one of those old-time Augustan phrases,—"Blue-Hosed Warriors", "Tickling the Draperies", or Charlie Reinbrecht being likened to a "Tower of Strength" on the floor.

He would fain congratulate

At eighty-six "Uncle Joe" Cannon proudly produces the ballot on which his and Abraham Lincoln's name appeared sixty-two years ago,—need we more strongly urge, Murray, that you preserve that record of our common entry into the political arena last spring?—to wit, the Undergrad elections.

At a loss to better explain the swelling ranks of those donning the ultra-conventional golphies hereabouts, it has just dawned on us that the boosters of the movement may be making Middlebury's bid for the next great international post-war conference.

A Problem for Philosophy 2
Granted that Middlebury sent four snow-shoe men to McGill and cleaned up one-half of the total points in these events, D. H. P. demands to know why, if we had sent as many more ski men, we couldn't have won the meet. Ans.—A broken strap, two tumbles and Vermont's moral handicap.

While finding much to commend in C. A. G. Jackson's commentary, "Scenic Middlebury and Her College", we fear his announcement that the sum of $22,000 was paid for the erection of the Town Hall, will detract measurably from local veneration of those Town Fathers who held sway back in the eighties.

Moreover, as a disclaimer of the statement that "Middlebury is in a state of arrested development", we have it that Officer Charlie Shaw vigorously denies ever having "run in" any one by that name.

COMMUNICATION

Says Basketball Should Not Be Dropped As Major Sport—Pleads for Larger Annual Appropriation

To the Editor of The Campus:—

The future of basketball as a 'varsity sport at Middlebury will undoubtedly be up for serious discussion before long. At the last undergraduate meeting (before a 'varsity game) this question was raised in a most inopportune time, but fortunately was put down. It is quite evident that there is a current of feeling existing to overthrow basketball at Middlebury, both on the part of alumni and undergraduates.

As far as victories go, the season was a disastrous one, but the writer does not believe that the remedy lies in doing away with basketball next year as Mr. Moreau suggests in his letter in The Campus of last week. No doubt there were defects in the way basketball has been run the past season or past few seasons. Very little money has been alloted to this sport, which necessitated the team being compelled to keep continually doing without this and that thing in order to meet expenses. For example, the team caught the 4 A. M. train Friday and rode until noon to Potsdam, N. Y., where they played Clarkson that evening. No one can contend that the team was able to give its best that evening. Before the season opened, no arrangements had been made for a coach, so Coach Brown consented to coach the team gratuitously, though he then was having classes all day, on account of his filling the position of both Men's Athletic Director, and Women's Athletic director. Certainly, Coach Brown was not able to give his best to the team, under such circumstances. The remedy, we believe, is to allow more money for basketball next year, and to have a coach engaged ready for work next fall, not around the Christmas holidays.

The men on the Outing Club surely are to be congratulated on their great showing, both at Dartmouth and McGill. But is it practicable to shove basketball and to concentrate alone on the Outing Club sports? The latter depend entirely upon the weather conditions, and have we any assurance that next winter will not be an open winter? What would the Outing Club be able to do then? And remind you, basketball would be in the discard.

Dartmouth has perfected winter sports better than any other New England college so it can serve as a good example. In 1918 and 1919, Dartmouth had two most disastrous basketball seasons, in 1919 winning only one game. What did they do? Coach Zahn of Philadelphia, a basketball expert, was engaged and every effort was put into producing a winning team, and as a result, Dartmouth is in the running for the intercollegiate title this year, and moreover a visit to Hanover will soon convince you of the enthusiasm that exists in the "five man sport".

There is no more reason why a male student can not go up in the "gym" and practice basketball than there is for one to go out skiing and snowshoeing. Interclass games are held, and why could not interfraternity games be also on the card? These would supply the material for the 'varsity.

Let it be clearly understood that the writer is not knocking the Outing Club. He hopes it will be run on a much better organized and enlarged scale next year. But to knock out basketball next year would be suicide to the sport at Middlebury and it is evident that it would take years to bring it back to its proper level after such action.

ELIZA COMES TO STAY IN OPERA HOUSE FRIDAY

The students of Middlebury College and townspeople will have a chance to see an all-star college cast play "Eliza Comes to Stay" by H. V. Esmond, on Friday evening, February 24, at the Opera House. The story centers around the Honorable Sandy Verrall, a young English bachelor, who is suddenly confronted with the problem of raising a golden-haired, blue-eyed little girl. When she arrives she is not exactly what he expected. Eliza proves to be quite a problem and how she stops "sticking to the bun" and "becomes dangerous" forms the main theme of the play. The play will be produced by The Thespeans under the direction of H. E. Currier '25.

DR. ROLVIX HARLAN IS SUNDAY SPEAKER

Tells of Life's Experience With the Religion

Dr. Harlan Recently Conducted An Investigation of Religious Affairs

The Reverend Rolvix Harlan of the American Baptist Home Mission Society of New York City, spoke at Vespers Sunday upon the subject of present day religion—its problems and achievements.

Dr. Harlan defined religion as the experience of right relationship between God and man; and the truly religious man as he who feels that his life is satisfactory as God's child.

Of the many problems of the religion of to-day, the greatest is the application of the teachings of Jesus to the present social order. Dr. Harlan as a religious worker spoke with authority upon the attitude with which one must approach the accomplishment of any religious work, the chief among which are reverence, and kindness or sympathy.

The right religion is the one which has succeeded in teaching its adherents fair play. It has caused its followers also to see the need of believing with Jesus as well as in Him; and like Him, of exercising faith, prayer, and a continually growing confidence in God.

Dr. Harlan emphasized the fact of the inequality of men in the industrial world which he accounted for by the possession, or lack of training. In the religious world there is a better chance for each person if he will only exert his whole strength. To be truly great, one must give one's whole self to one's work, and as a religious worker, give one's whole strength to God.

Dr. Harlan has taken a leading part in the work of the Baptist churches in America. He has recently been employed to investigate religious affairs abroad, particularly in the British Isles, France and Germany.

NOTICE

The Campus has on hand for distribution several score copies of The Burlington Free Press for February 11, 1922. The issue contains a full page article on "Scenic Middlebury and Her College" by C. A. G. Jackson. The story is very entertainingly written and contains an interesting account of the growth of the college and its present stand. The Campus also has several hundred copies of a poem "The Conquering Army" by Katrina Trask.

Both the poem and The Press are available for any undergraduate, faculty or alumni who may desire them. They can be secured at The Campus office.

PROF. BRYANT WRITES FOR ASTROPHYSICAL JOURNAL

Describes Work as Volunteer Research Ass't at Yerkes Observatory

The January number of the Astrophysical Journal contains an article by Professor E. C. Bryant which is the result of part of his work as volunteer research assistant at Yerkes Observatory last summer.

Most of his time was given to the Rumford spectroheliograph. This is an instrument attached to the 40-inch telescope by means of which photographs of the sun are taken, using light of one wave-length only. These photographs give information regarding solar prominences and conditions at the surface of the sun which can be obtained in no other way. Every clear day, from three to fifty such photographs were taken, the number depending upon the amount of activity taking place on the sun.

In addition to this work, he measured the transparency for different colors possessed by the ray-filters that are employed at the observatory in taking astronomical photographs. For this purpose a polarization spectrophotometer loaned by the University of Chicago was used. The results of this investigation appear in the article referred to.

ENGLISH CLUB MEETING THURSDAY

Dr. Woodbury to Visit Middlebury This Spring

Accepts Invitation Extended by English Club—Read Modern Fiction

"Modern Fiction" was the topic discussed at the third meeting of the English Club last Thursday evening in the Music Studio, the program being in charge of Klock '23, Swift '22, and Miss Kirkpatrick '22. Swift read a paper on the life and appreciation of Dorothy Canfield Fisher, who attended the English School at Bread Loaf last summer. Miss Kirkpatrick presented a resume of two of Miss Fisher's most popular books, "Hillsboro People" and "The Bent Twig"; while Klock contrasted Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street" with Miss Fisher's "The Brimming Cup", and illustrated with readings from both books. For the lighter side of the evening's work, Corsen '24 read O. Henry's "The Voice of the City", and Miss Woodruff rendered two piano selections.

Julian Klock '23, was elected secretary-treasurer of the Club to fill the vacancy in that office caused by Roger Hall's withdrawal from college. Kalin '23, editor of the proposed literary magazine, gave a report on the personnel and progress of the magazine staff, as planned so far, and appealed for contributions from members of the club. The first issue of the magazine will appear just before the Easter vacation. Word has been received from Dr. Charles J. Woodbury accepting the English Club's invitation to visit Middlebury in the spring and deliver a series of lectures.

F. C. Brigham '21 is engaged in business in Chicago, Ill.

NEW BUILDING TO ACCOMMODATE 150

Expect to Start Work on Temporary Recitation Hall in Near Future—Single Story Sturcture

The new temporary recitation hall to be erected on the Women's College campus will consist of a single story structure containing four rooms, and capable of accommodating one hundred and fifty according to an announcement made yesterday by President Moody. It is expected that work on the new hall will be started in the near future and that it will be ready for occupancy at the re-opening of college next September. The Administration first saw the need of additional recitation facilities, and made plans toward the aleviating of the conjestion in the other recitation halls. While it was seen to be impossible to erect a permanent building at this time, President Moody stated, the building of a temporary structure was possible, and accordingly plans were made, which the Board of Trustees meeting in New York City recently adopted. The new building will cost in the neighborhood of $8,000.00 it was stated.

EMINENT SPANISH INSTRUCTORS HERE

Madrid from which she obtained a first prize in piano, is one of the assistants in the Spanish Department and will again teach this summer. One of her courses will be on Spanish Folk-Lore Music, the first of its kind ever attempted in the United States.

Miss Francisca Martinez, who has taught in the Spanish School since the Summer Session of 1919, is the head of the Spanish Department of the New York State Teachers College in Albany.

Courses in Spanish-American Literature

The courses in Spanish American Literature will be under the direction of Doctor Victor A. Belaunde, who is the representative in the United States of the University of Saint Marks in Lima, Peru, the oldest in the western hemisphere, where since the time when he received his Ph. D. he has taught philosophy, political science and international law until 1918, when he was appointed Minister Plenipotentiary of Peru, in Uruguay. Doctor Belaunde is now lecturing on Hispano-American Literature in Columbia University, is the editor of two illustrated magazines in Lima, a Corresponding Fellow of the Royal Spanish Academies of the Language and History, and the author of literary, historical and political works.

The courses in History of Spanish Art and Spanish Realia will be in charge of Doctor Primativo Sanjurio of Cornell University, one of the most prominent poets and playwrights of the younger Spanish generation, several of whose works have been translated into different languages; one of his dramas is to be produced in New York in the near future.

Miss Milagros de Alda, who taught here in the summer of 1920, comes from the Board of Extension Studies in Madrid, where she is now teaching, to assist Professor Moreno-Lacalle in his phonetic courses; she enjoys the distinction of being the only woman phonetician in Spain at the present time.

Miss Filomena Fuentes is a graduate of Ciseneros College in Madrid and was an instructor in the International Institute of Girls and of the College of San Isidro in Madrid from which she was appointed principal of the Business School in Port, Portugal. She is now teaching in the National Park Seminary, Forest Glen, Maryland.

Miss Carmen Castilla who is inspector of public schools in Spain came to this country last winter delegated by her government to undertake special pedagogical investigations and is now teaching in Smith College.

Senor Francisco Aguilera of Williams College is a graduate of the University of Santiago, Santiago, Chile, by which he was sent to this country with a scholarship to pursue post-graduate studies in pedagogy.

Miss Lillian Knight of the class of '24 has been appointed Secretary to the Dean of the Spanish School of 1922.

MIDDLEBURY LOSES LAST TWO GAMES

Hardy, Axtell. Goals from fouls: for St. Michael's—Delaney (9); for Middlebury—Leonard (7). Substitutions: for St. Michael's—John Garvin for Hale, Croteau for Delaney, Free for Fitzsimmonds, Conlon for Murphy; for Middlebury—Williams for Rich, Edwards for Hardy, Hardy for Timberman, Rich for Leonard. Scorer: Brown. Time of halves: 20 minutes.

Norwich Game Slow

In a slow and uninteresting game with the Norwich quintet played in Montpelier Wednesday evening the Middlebury five lost the last game of the three-cornered State championship series by five points, collecting 12 counters to their opponents 17.

Leonard played the best game for the Middlebury men, collecting eight of the total twelve points, four from the field and four from the foul line. Middlebury used their entire team while Norwich did not change their line-up throughout the game.

The summary:—

| Norwich 17 | Middlebury 12 |
|---|---|
| August, r.f. | r.f., Hardy |
| Coark, l.f. | l.f., Rich |
| Austin, c. | c., Reinbrecht |
| Smith, l.g. | l.g., Ryan |
| Marr, r.g. | r.g., Leonard |

Goals from the field: for Norwich—August (3), Austin; for Middlebury—Leonard (2), Hardy, Reinbrecht. Goals from fouls: for Norwich—August (7), Austin (2); for Middlebury—Leonard (4). Substitutions: for Middlebury—Axtell for Rich, Timberman for Reinbrecht, Edwards for Ryan, Reinbrecht for Edwards. Scorer: Draper '23. Time of halves: 20 minutes.

PHI BETA KAPPA ELECTS ELEVEN SENIORS

Columbia University. Rather tragic in nature, it is written in the vein of Byron's "Don Juan", and its theme is in substance that it is rather pitiful to work on something so useless. Dr. Bacon delivered "Sophia Trenton" as the Phi Beta Kappa poem at Leland-Sanford University in 1920. He has also delivered the poem at Wellesley College and before the faculty at the University of California.

Dr Bacon a Yale Graduate

Dr. Bacon is a graduate of Yale University in the class of 1909. He is now professor of English at the University of California with which he has been connected for many years. He is now on leave of absence and living at Peace Dale, R. I. where he is devoting his time to original writing.

Special music for the initiation ceremonies was furnished by the College choir.

Sam P. Davis '21 is instructor in French and Athletics in the Cranston High School, Providence, R. I.

now before the United States Senate because they are definite steps toward the limitation of armaments by international agreements and further because they are indicative of a genuine tendency toward international understanding and cooperation. The survey also indicated the fact that the spirit which prompted President Wilson to propose the League of Nations was commended as well as a similar spirit on the part of President Harding because it would doubtlessly lead in the future to an understanding between nations leading toward international peace, and the adjusting of international difficulties. It was likewise declared to be the opinion of the class that the United States should participate in the Genoa conference. Recognition of Russia by the United States was not favorably received.

When the results of the survey collected from 235 colleges were given to President Harding by Charles Denby, Jr., of Princeton University, nephew of Secretary Denby, the President said that he looked with favor upon the part that the organized movement among undergraduates in the United States had taken in national affairs.

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigaretty aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.
